What they say

Angus Farrar
Cadet Quantity Surveyor
University of Melbourne

"The Student Program was a great opportunity to align my studies in architecture and construction with a range of applications in industry. We were given both training and experience within all of Slattery's services and sectors, not only helping my professional development, but also providing greater understanding to my previous and current studies. The inclusion, support and collaboration with all members of the company was outstanding, ranging from other students to directors, highlighting the strong inclusive culture at Slattery".
