First Nations Scholarship

Quantity Surveyor Cadetship Application

Slattery is excited to announce the launch of our inaugural First Nations Scholarship Program.

This opportunity extends to four Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander students, 2 in Melbourne (Naarm) and 2 in Sydney (Cadi), who obtain successful entry into a Construction or Engineering related tertiary degree for 2022.

Slattery is proud to have reached Innovate status for our Reconciliation Action Plan – to read more, please see our website.

The details of the scholarship are:

Duration:

Three (3) years (option to extend to 4 years)

Employment:

Two (2) days per week permanent paid employment over the course of the student's degree, including mentoring and career development opportunities

How to Apply

To apply for the Slattery First Nations Scholarship, please send a complete application form to careers@slattery.com.au.

Applications must include the mandatory selection criteria listed below.

Applications must be submitted by 5pm, 11th February, 2022.

Application & Selection Process

Shortlisted applicants will be reviewed and assessed by a panel including Slattery staff (a mix of gender and age) and Yemurraki Egan, Yorta Yorta, Wemba Wemba & Gunditjmara man. Yemurraki is engaged by Slattery as an external First Nations Consultant and is a part of Slattery's Reconciliation Action Plan Working Group.

In addition to the mandatory criteria, the panel will be seeking:

- Alignment with Slattery core values
- Excellent communication skills

Shortlisted candidates will be contacted and invited to interview with members of the selection panel. Successful applicants will be notified of the scholarship offer by 1 March 2022.

Applicants will be notified of the outcome via phone and email, so please ensure this is correct on your application form.

Mandatory Selection Criteria

- Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander student
- Confirmation of acceptance into a Construction or Engineering related tertiary degree in 2022
- Based in Victoria or NSW and able to attend offices in Melbourne or Sydney
- Completion of Application Form, including the 'About You' section of the form.
